How to dress for a Las Vegas Night Club

Most nightlife locations in Las Vegas have a fairly strict dress code, at least for men. This is especially true of the high end night clubs. The requirements for men and women are different.

EVERYONE BRING ID or you will not get in.

Women can get away with a lot in Las Vegas, but sandals and flip-flops don't work. If you are not the type of person who can walk around in heels all night then by all means wear a pair of cute flats, but not sandals. In general, just dress pretty and sexy. You know how. This is a great time to break out that sexy little outfit your rarely get to wear.

Remember the nightclubs are very crowded. Having a purse in a club is an annoyance so a good tip is to only carry you ID and some form of cash.

Men, the clubs in Las Vegas will turn you away, so be stylish and avoid the problem. Do not wear sneakers or sandals. Period. Wear dress shoes or casual shoes that do not resemble running shoes. Jeans are acceptable as long as they are not ratty. Lots of men opt for suits, dress pants and a collared shirts. Unless you are a celebrity, friend of the DJ or well connected, wearing jeans and a T is a good way to ensure you will have issues at the door. Just don't do it. Shirts with a collar are your safest bet. Polo or dress shirt, doesn't matter as long as it fits you.
